Located in beautiful Vancouver, British Columbia, Providence Health Care (PHC) is one of Canada's largest faith-based healthcare organizations and is a dynamic academic health care network operating tertiary and community acute care sites (St. Paul's Hospital and Mount St. Joseph's Hospital), rehabilitation (Holy Family Hospital) and residential care facilities in Vancouver, BC. Working in strong collaborative relationships with key partners including the Vancouver Coastal Health Authority, the University of British Columbia, the Provincial Health Services Authority, and others, we contribute to the spectrum of health care delivery in British Columbia and provide leading services and internationally recognized research and teaching.
